

Richard C. Davis

Professional Bio

Richard Davis is an Assistant Professor of Information Systems at Singapore Management University specializing in Human-Computer Interaction. His research focuses on tools and techniques for creating natural user interfaces, particularly interfaces for creative novices and amateurs. Richard completed his bachelors and masters degrees in Electrical Engineering and Computer Science (with a minor in Theater Arts) at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1995. He then sought to develop natural creative tools in industry (at Intel, mimio, BorisFX, and The MathWorks) before completing his Ph.D. in Computer Science at the University of California, Berkeley in 2008. He currently resides in Singapore. More information on his current and past projects is available at <http://www.mysmu.edu/faculty/rcdavis>.